The famous DeWitt saloon in Louisville has been sold for debt.

The ransom for Miss Stone has been paid but the Brigands have not yet returned the Stone.

Young Theodore Roosevelt, who has been critically ill with pneumonia, is now considered out of danger.

Hugh Mulholland has gone wrong some more. This time he is arrested at Paducah charged with grand larceny.

In the Bell county fight, mentioned elsewhere, six persons were killed, on one of the Sheriff's posse and five of Turner's men.

Louisville will entertain the Kentucky Legislature February 21. Preparations are being made and hospitality will be spread with a lavish hand.

For the fourth time the House has passed the bill providing for a constitutional amendment for the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people.

J. C. S. Blackburn, Jr., son of United States Senator Jo Blackburn, died at Frankfort last Wednesday. He was thirty-five years old and a victim of pneumonia.

Congressman Allen is being urged to become a Democratic candidate for Governor of Kentucky. He is undecided, but will let the people know in the early Spring.

A Boston man was fined $20 for using an old United States flag as a waste basket in his office, and yet Congress is free to make a foot ball out of our constitution.

Postmaster General Payne has announced that in the future fourth-class postmasters will be removed for cause only. Their positions can no longer be used for political purposes.

Prince Henry, of Prussia, is now enroute for the U. S. A. He will pass through the country in a hurry, stopping in Louisville only fifteen minutes. He has evidently heard of Kentucky troubles.

Booker T. Washington has been selected by the faculty of the University of Nebraska as commencement day orator. Members of the senior class oppose the selection of a negro and a class meeting to discuss the matter was called. But Booker will orate.

About forty days of the present Legislature are gone. The Constitutional limit is sixty days. About seven hundred bills have been introduced, but only two or three have passed. At the wind up they will go through at the rate of one hundred a day.

The ball started to "roll" by the Lexington people against the play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" meets the hearty approval of the Daughters of the Confederacy, of Little Rock. They request the managers of theaters not to book the play. Well and good for that sentiment should have had its burying many years ago.

In the National House, last Thursday, a bill was passed providing for the payment of the claims of Confederate officers and soldiers whose horses and side arms were taken from them by Union soldiers, contrary to the terms of surrender of Lee and Johnston's armies. The amount to be paid is limited to $50,000.

A Lexington girl was out taking snap shots a few days ago and here is what she caught: Her father was sitting on the front porch and having the k-dax primed she took a snap shot. Presently the father went into the house and the hired girl came out, sat down in the same chair and the daughter took her picture also. When the picture was developed it showed the aged father sitting in the chair with the hired girl sitting in his lap. The girl k-daxed had forgotten to move the film, and both pictures were taken on the same plate. When the old lady, after seeing the picture, gripped with her aged companion, it looked for a minute as though things were going hay, but he finally shook her off and escaped by way of the alley.

"Since our occupation of Cuba we have not done one thing to bring the revenge of war. We have re-established no families in their homelands nor attempted to re-stock barren farms and plantations. We have not taken a single step to extend the commerce of the country so as to enable the island to recover from the devastation of recent war." In these words Gen. James H. Wilson, late Governor of Montana and recently appointed as delegate to King Edward's coronation to represent the United States army, charged neglect of Cuba in a speech delivered at the Union League Club, Chicago. Gen. Wilson made frequent references to what he called the unfair treatment the island had received at the hands of the Administration. The speaker made plain that an interpretation of broken faith might be placed upon our conduct by the Cubans themselves. Look out for a reprimand.

A correspondent from Frankfort, writing to Willamstown, Courier, says: "There is one spot in Frankfort at which all persons, old and young, black and white, rich and poor alike stop for a while. A marble slab marks the spot in the walk going from the gate to the Capitol steps, where Goebel fell. It is here that the hat is taken from one's head while all survey the spot and the surroundings. The window from which the fatal shot came is on the right in the Executive office; the hackberry tree from which the bullet that did the dastardly deed, was cut in on the left, and the perspective of the entire tragedy is in one mind and before one's eyes. It is by far the most sought and most interesting spot in Frankfort this winter."

Foreign syndicates and alien landlords own over 20,000,000 acres of land in the United States, from which they collect annually millions of dollars in rent. These fellows live in palaces in Europe and England, and the American laborer whose forefathers refused to pay a small tax on tea to royal King George, contentedly plods along, paying into their coffers many thousands times as much money as under the old method of direct taxation levied by kings and princes. But we are a free people. We think it so very much better to do this than to keep the land for our babies and children, that they may have a home and plenty to eat and wear. How the royal flunkies must laugh as how they outwitted the Yankee.

A desperate fight occurred in Bell county, four miles from Mid-dleboro, last Wednesday. It was at Lee Turner's notorious "Quar-ter House." Turner had violated the law and Sheriff Howard and posse went to arrest him. Turner knew of their coming and he gathered in about twenty of his friends, and when the officers came up they were received with a volley of shots. The firing was returned and the fight lasted for some time. Several on a side were killed, among the officers a Harry Cecil, who formerly lived at Barboursville. Turner made his escape, but his house was burned. More trouble is expected.

Hiram Cronk, of New York, is the only surviving pensioner of the war 1812. He is now 106 years old, and a bill has been introduced in Congress increasing his pension to $25 per month. There are 1,677 widows of soldiers of this war but most of the widows married men much older than themselves, and the widows have long since been dead.

February 12th was the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. Many patriotic societies celebrated it throughout the country.

Booker T. Washington should be in the North where he is honored, for he will never achieve equality with the whites of the South or orate at a southern college.

A great many kickers were in Frankfort last week, headed by the redactionist committee to be back on their work. The Committee can not please every body, and when they get the State rears and they should submit their reports and let it be voted upon. It is not unusual foolishness to listen to kickers.

There is a probability of the Capital removing question being submitted to a vote of the State. Louisville, Frankfort and Lexington will be the contending cities in the fight for location. By a vote of 61 to 35 the House has passed a bill providing for a popular vote in 1908 on a constitutional amendment to make removal possible. It will take twenty-three votes in the Senate to pass the bill there, and friends of the measure are hopeful.

The House Circuit Court Committee has decided to report favorably the Louisville Judiciary Rotation Bill as offered by Mr. Brown. It does not affect the present Judges. The Senate Committee on appropriations will report favorably the $100,000 World's Fair Bill. Favorable report will also be made for an appropriation of $30,000 to complete the girl's dormitory at A. and M. College.

Mr. M. A. Smith is quite sick. Dr. L. D. Hammond and wife have returned from Louisville. He is a good doctor and we are glad to have him with us.

Mr. W. H. Hudson, of Columbia, was with us a few days looking for fat cattle and hogs. We are glad that our country have stock to call people from adjoining counties.

Mr. J. H. Smith, our merchant, is buying some nice hogs and fat cows. He is a good judge of stock and knows when he has a bargain.

J. H. Smith purchased a farm of Jack Roy lying near his home, consisting of a lot of white oak timber which he is thinking of working.

Wm. R. Foley was here a few days ago selling photos of our three martyred Presidents, "Lincoln Garfield and McKinley," tells us he has sold near 100.

Mr. L. D. Hammond and wife and A. W. Godberry passed through here enroute home from Louisville last week.

OBITUARY.

On the morning of February 4, 1902 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pulliam near Sparksville, the angel of death came and captured for its victim the spirit of little Lisa and took it home to God. Lisa was 5 years 6 months and 20 days old, unusually bright and much loved by all who knew her. While it is hard for us to give up the darling one, it is said that God does all things for the best. While God calls one away we dearly love, the angels stand on the other shore beckoning to us home. God saying "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

In sadness we knelt at her bedside and heard her last pitiful moan, then folding her hands over her bosom, we humbly thanked God she was gone—gone, carried up by the angels with Jesus forever to reign—where voice of earth's blighting demons can ever reach our darling angel. We are lonely, yes, ever so lonely. Our eyes are now filled with tears, as we call up precious, sad memories. We miss her countenances, and think I can now hear her cry, "Come up here, dear papa and mamma. There is no death here."

A loving cousin. I. B. Y.

AT REST.

The subject of this sketch, Mrs. Chely Arnold, was born November 24, 1828, was married in early girlhood to Mr. W. H. Arnold. To this union nine children were born, four boys and five girls, none of whom are living, three sons and four daughters.

Her husband died 80 years ago and left her with eight children to care for and rear, the oldest son having died before the husband. She was faithful to the trust left her, all the children having married and have good homes, and most all of them devoted Christians.

Mrs. Arnold had been a member of Mt. Pleasant Christian Church for more than 40 years. Her husband was also a member of the same church and was a deacon of the congregation when he died. Mrs. Arnold was spending her last days with her beloved children, four of whom are in Texas and three in this country—Mrs. Ben. F. Thomas, Mrs. Lizzie Hunt and Mr. John Arnold. She had made three trips to Texas to visit her children and came back last fall, and has since been more or less afflicted. She was at the home of Mr. Ben. Thomas in her last sickness.

She had dropsy and was tapped once, but it only gave temporary relief. She talked of her expected demise freely and said she was ready and anxious to depart and go with the loved ones gone before. Bade her children and friends good by and told them to meet her in heaven. She was a sister of Mr. Ham Judd, of Cave Valley. "She hath done what she could."

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Ellen Squires, widow of Mr. Ed Squires, deceased, departed this life Saturday, February 8th, at her late home near Cave Valley. She had been confined to her room since December last, with pulmonary trouble. She was forty-six years of age her last birthday. Her husband preceded her to the grave three years ago. She was left a young widow with three children to rear and provide for. She was prudent and economical and had managed to do a good deal by her children. They are good, affectionate children and were so patient and faithful to their mother in her last sickness. They never left her or failed to do all they could to contribute to her happiness. But they are now truly orphan children, but they have many good friends who will gladly assist in their needs. James, Ross and Mollie, are the names of the three children. The mother admonishes them to the last to become Christians and meet her in Heaven. She said she was ready and had no fears of death.

She had been a member of the Cave Valley Christian Church for a number of years. During the protracted meeting last fall she was so anxious to see her children all converted that she overtaxed her strength in attending services night and day. Funeral services were held at the grave on Sunday afternoon, at the Squires' farm, where she was laid to rest beside her husband.

"Blessed are the dead which sleep in the Lord from henceforth. Yea, saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

GLENSFORK.

The wheat crop is materially injured by the protracted freezing. The worst damage, however, was caused by the severe spell before Christmas.

There has been comparatively nothing done toward preparing ground for the coming crop. A few of our farmers broke their land last fall, but those who have tried to break since the New Year, have had their plows froze up for a month.

The movement in stock has been reasonably good in this part of the county this winter. H. P. Barger sold a nice bunch of cattle for a good price and picked up another good bunch from different parties.

Chapman & Walkup some time since sold a good bunch of hogs to R. E. Tandy for the spring market. Capt. J. S. Chapman is feeding a bunch of hogs for market.

Prof. Fred M. Scheidler, who has been spending part of the winter with his daughter, Miss Louie, at the home of Mrs. Theresa Dudley, is now giving music lessons to a few select scholars at the home of Mr. W. F. Sanders.

Mr. T. H. Smith, who was raised near where Fry P. O. is now situated, in Green county, and who went west over 37 years ago, is spending the winter in this vicinity, visiting his sisters, Mrs. J. Dudley and Mrs. T. A. Dudley. He is in his 70th year, but well preserved for a man of his age.

The residential changes that have taken place during the winter are as follows, as far as I know: W. L. Brockman has removed to the place that he purchased from O. B. Smith, in the upper end of town. O. B. Smith is occupying the Methodist parsonage, and Rev. T. J. Gibson is occupying the United Brethren parsonage.

This occasional correspondent lives somewhat removed from the theater of social events, however, he has winged the following: Mr. and Mrs. Horace Jeffries were visiting Saturday night at Mr. L. P. Hart's, near Moutpelier.

MONTPELIER.

Eld. Laurence Williams returned home from Bowling Green last week.

Eld. Z. T. Williams preached at Danville last Sunday.

Julius J. K. P. Conover, of Columbia, was here last week.

W. O. Pile, of Columbia, passed through here Sunday, en route for Jamestown.

D. M. Williams and J. F. Neat were here last week.

Misses Sallie Conover and Sallie Williams visited Miss Maggie Haynes last Sunday.

Miss Sallie Jones and Nettie Denny visited Miss Nora Bradshaw Saturday night and Sunday.

Sam R. Wheat, who is attending Cherry Bro's. Business College Bowling, writes home that he is well pleased with the school.

Lukes & Co., Lincoln county, bought of F. L. Selby thirty two year old steers at 40.

Taylor Bros., of this place, are feeding a nice bunch of hogs for the spring market.

G. A. Bradshaw sold to R. L. Tandy a nice bunch of two-year old steers at 40.

Bassett Hott Jr., one of our best young men will leave for Macon, Ill., next week where he expects to make his future home. We wish him much success.

We have organized a literary society at this place, which convenes every Thursday night, and from the flow of oratory it is a self evident fact that in the near future the halls of Congress will sound and re-sound with the voices of statesmen from Moutpelier.

They will restore and preserve the human health. If you are feeling miserable don't wait until you are down sick but use the tonic today. Hundreds of people are going about with a disordered stomach, liver or kidneys, or a dry hacking cough, with one foot in the grave, when a bottle of Barlett's Chilling Tonic Bitters would do them more good than all the expensive doctors they have ever tried. Remember Barlett's Chilling Tonic Bitters are the best in the world.

Saved Her Child's Life.

"In three weeks our chubby little boy was changed by pneumonia almost to a skeleton," writes Mrs. W. Watkins, of Pleasant City, O. "A terrible cough set in, that, in spite of a good doctor's treatment for several weeks, grew worse every day. We then used Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, and our darling was soon sound and well. We are sure this grand medicine saved his life." Millions know it's the only sure cure for coughs, colds and all lung diseases. Dr. E. Paul, of Columbia, and W. H. Wilkinson, of Liberty, guarantee satisfaction. 50c. and $1.00 Trial bottles free.
